

Amy Wescott-Allen Jumping Clinic

Saturday 17th November
Friday 21st December & Saturday 22nd December 2018

Amy Westcott-Allen is a sympathetic and confidence giving instructor. She trained for 14 years with Russ Hardy at Boomerang Stables before spending some time in Germany with Peter Weinberg. When she came back to UK she focused mainly on showjumping and producing her young horses up to elementary level dressage. She now professionally showjumps, competing at CSI International shows as well as National level in the UK.

Amy now teaches a huge variety of people and horses including pony clubs, riding clubs, junior riders, private sessions as well as running her own clinics and camps. Amy also works closely with Retraining of Racehorses in all disciplines and brings the skills and sensitivity needed to all her coaching.

Amy's gridwork and jumping exercise sessions are designed to help the horse's way of going. To improve rhythm, balance and athletic performance

All horses and riders will benefit from the sessions as well special exercises and techniques designed for horses that rush or riders looking to gain confidence in their riding.
